

This ad has closed. It is visible only to recruiters in Economics, Finance & Statistics, Collegio Carlo Alberto and EJM administrators. ×

Assistant Professorships at the Collegio Carlo Alberto and University of Torino

Employer: Economics, Finance & Statistics, Collegio Carlo Alberto

Location: Piazza Arbarello 8, Torino, 10122, Italy

Field(s) of specialization: Any field

Position type(s): Assistant Professor

Posting end date: 24 Nov 2018 (check the ad text for information about the application deadline)

Ad text:

Collegio Carlo Alberto (<http://www.carloalberto.org/>)

Academic Junior Job Market 2019

Assistant Professorships (Any Field)

One or more Assistant Professorships are being offered to students nearing the completion of their PhD programs in Economics or Finance, or to candidates who hold a PhD in Economics or Finance. Assistant Professors are offered salaries and research funds competitive with those offered by US research universities. English is the working and instructional language at the Collegio.

The positions are for four years starting in September 2019 and renewable for three more years after a mid-term evaluation. They may be transformed into permanent positions following a successful peer review.

Applications and references must be submitted through Econjobmarket.org by December 1, 2018.

The Collegio will interview both at the European Job Market (December 6-7 2018, in Naples, Italy) and at the ASSA meetings in Atlanta (January 4-6, 2019). Selected candidates will be invited after interviews for a job talk at the Collegio.

For questions regarding the application process, please email jobmkt-help@carloalberto.org

Application procedure

To apply for this position, create an Applicant profile.

Submission materials required

- C.V.
- Job-Market Paper:
- Additional paper (optional): (optional)
- Additional paper (optional): (optional)
- Other material in one file: (optional)
- Your picture (jpeg file): (optional)
- Letters of reference: 3

